

Community Youth Orchestra Program

Ang Misyon works at the grassroots level through its support of various Community Youth Orchestras or CYOs. These musical groups are based in communities throughout Metro Manila, provinces in Luzon, and Visayas.

Ang Misyon CYOs put a premium on the term COMMUNITY. The organization believes that the community can empower their own youth by developing their creativity, personality, leadership and self-awareness through orchestral music.

"This program has allowed me to share my talents in ways I've never imagined. I'm so happy that I get to inspire and help the people in my own community just as I have been inspired and helped by Ang Misyon."

About Ang Misyon, Inc.

Ang Misyon was founded in 2012 by First Philippine Holdings Chairman Federico R. Lopez, ABS-CBN Chairman Emeritus Eugenio Lopez III, and Concert Pianist Jovianney Emmanuel Cruz. Leading the Orchestra of the Filipino Youth as Music Director and Conductor is Joshua Dos Santos, recognized as one of the most experienced and versatile young Portuguese-Venezuelan conductors of his generation.

Ang Misyon believes that social change is sparked through the learning of orchestral music. The organization's projects work towards enhancing the identity of the Philippines by creating alternative career paths in classical music while redeveloping the arts and culture scene in the country. The organization has helped more than 900 scholars and continues to provide programs and services such as professional music lessons and materials based on an AMI curriculum, instrument support, opportunities for local and international performances, opportunities to serve as junior mentors to younger scholars and values formation and counseling.
